

HEALDSBURG AVENUE BRIDGE PROJECT

An Investment In Public Safety

Join City Officials and Omni-Means at a Public Meeting to Discuss Healdsburg Avenue Bridge Project

The City of Healdsburg invites you to an open house public meeting on Wednesday, March 31, 2010 to obtain your input and comments on the Healdsburg Avenue Bridge Project. City staff and their consultant Omni-Means will be on hand to answer questions and document your comments, desires and concerns regarding this important project.

City staff and consultants will also be available to address questions on the engineering and environmental studies which are just now getting underway, in the area surrounding the existing Russian River crossing. These studies will help the City determine what actions should be taken to facilitate a safe and efficient river crossing adjacent to Veterans Memorial Park.

The City will consider all public input received when developing alternatives for the river crossing to be evaluated.

Please attend the meeting and be heard!
